

CIS BRIEFING SESSION

Thursday, 15 June 2006, 10.30 am, IML Lab, CB01.27.13

Active courses marked as 'Publish: No' for the Handbook in CIS

The Deputy Vice Chancellor has confirmed the following principles regarding the marking of courses in CIS as 'Publish: No' for the Handbook:

'That the University Handbook (print and online) is the authoritative statement of all UTS courses and thus should include all active courses with the following exceptions:

1. higher doctoral degrees (C01001 to C01005)
2. where a decision of Academic Board to phase out/discontinue a course has yet to be recorded on CASS
3. where the DVC has approved a suspension of intake to a course and this is known in sufficient time to suppress publication
4. where a course has been approved and made active on CASS although the first intake is not for the current cycle (i.e. more than a year in advance).'

This means that all 'Offshore only' courses should also be included, with appropriate text to indicate the locations in which the courses are available.

Any request for a course to be flagged as 'Publish: No' that is not covered by the above should be referred to the Manager, Academic Programs Office who will consult with the DVC as necessary.

As at 8.6.06, CIS holds the following Active courses which are marked as 'Publish: No' for the Handbook. Unless a course falls into one of the four exceptions above, it needs to have data added to the compulsory fields (see CIS: Documentation) and be marked 'Publish: Yes'.
